CHRISTMAS MARKETS AND BAZAARS

Like homemade stuff to eat? Or want to buy an apron or quilt or some fancy crocheted work for a Christmas present? Then keep an eye on the church and society markets, the bazaars and special sales which belong traditionally to the Christmas season in Jacksonville.

On East State, West State, and all around the town, neat little placards proclaim that such-and-such a church or society is holding a market. Several churches conduct bazaars within their own buildings. Most of these events, all designed to replenish church or class treasuries, are timed for the week end. But as we enter the Christmas season the markets are to be found most any day.

Smiling ladies set out cakes, pies and other good things for approval of the public. They hang up needlework which has been weeks in the making. The public does approve—with remarkable alacrity. If you don't get there early you may be disappointed. These delicacies for the table, and articles representing artistic skill, change ownership quickly. The public is quick to show appreciation by buying up all of the articles on display.

Many Jacksonville merchants encourage and assist church groups by providing prominent space for markets in their stores. The ladies with the foodstuffs and handwork are not regarded as competitors—they actually make the Christmas season brighter. Their wares which they prepared with their own hand, in their own kitchens and sewing rooms, contribute a distinctive note to the Christmas season. Holiday shopping would not be complete without these markets and bazaars which their sponsors agree are hard work, but which put dollars into treasuries of dozens of worthy organizations.

Every Night Is Theater Night For George Pierce

By George Tucker (For Hal Boyle)
New York —(AP)—Every night in the week and sometimes in the afternoon George Pierce goes to the theater.

Most people pay to get in but George goes in through the back door and he always gets in free.

As backstage doorman of the Empire theater, the oldest playhouse in New York, George Pierce's life is part of a never-ending rendezvous of celebrated characters.

How long has this been going on? "Say I been here twenty years—say thirty," says George. "Say I was a foundling and was brought up here. Sometimes it seems that long."

He Lives In A Drab World
The world of George Pierce is a drab, narrow backstage hallway, built of bleak brick, as most backstage areas are. There is the customary rack holding the actors' mail, the usual fire extinguishers in their shiny cases, one chair, and a telephone that has been disconnected.

"We used to have a phone back here, but they took the phone out and we have to go to the drug store"—with just the trace of a grumble.

A bright atom of seventy-plus ("I don't believe in stating precise ages. Makes it tough if you even want another job") George Pierce is slightly over five feet and utterly bald.

"That Nazimova," says George, "she was a one. We always played little games, we did. Like the one with the rug. We had a little strip of rug in the hall. We called her the queen and made the other members of the cast straddle it. Only the Queen could walk on the rug."

Admired Cornell
The responsibilities of a backstage doorman when being interviewed are such that he dare not say anything about this person, or admit a fondness for that one, without causing resentment or hurt to others.

His esteem for Katharine Cornell, however, could not be concealed. "A mighty fine woman. In the greetings of the Conference and Pastor McGuire extended the greetings of the banquet to be held at the State Street church Friday at 8:30 p. m., according to an announcement made by Carl E. Robinson, chairman of men's work in the church.

The banquet this year will feature a turkey supper. Men of the church will bring their own sons or boys who have been assigned to them. The feature attraction of the evening will be "Orlando," magician and hypnotist.

The ladies of the church are serving the dinner and tickets may be secured from Mr. Robinson.

A large congregation from the neighboring churches and city churches was in attendance.

Seining To Begin At Lake Mauvaisterre

Seining of rough fish from Lake Mauvaisterre is scheduled to begin Thursday morning, but it may be Friday before the operations are under way to full extent, according to announcement Wednesday.

The work will be done by Charles Swan of this city, an experienced commercial fisherman, who has just completed operations at Meredosia bay. He will be assisted by several other men and the entire job will be carried on under supervision of the Illinois Department of Conservation.

Large carp and buffalo fish will be removed from the lake. Members of the public improvement committee of the council said that no catfish will be removed from the lake.

No fish will be sold or given away at the lake where the landings are made. The fish will be taken to Beardstown, weighed and sold through commercial channels.

The contract between the City of Jacksonville and Mr. Swan calls for a pound-for-pound replacement of game fish for rough fish up to 3,000 pounds, or one-fourth cash return of the rough fish removed.

Seining operations will be done as a conservation measure to protect game fish from the carp and buffalo. The council has an arrangement with Mr. Swan and the state conservation department whereby the lake will be restocked with game fish; replacing the rough fish taken out.

Alderman Allen Kelly of the public improvement committee said the seining job probably will require four or five days.

The lake at Nichols park was seined last summer, at which time many rough fish were removed.

COMMUNICATION

Jacksonville Journal Courier, Dear Sirs: Mr. Hackett deserves the thanks of all Jacksonville citizens, not only for his interests in seeing our elm trees preserved, but also for the public-spirited way in which he has approached the problem of preserving them.

Too many of us use the negative approach of criticizing our government, city, state, and national, for what it doesn't do, without suggesting a positive alternative. Mr. Hackett has done something commendable in presenting the whole picture to both our city government, at the council meeting, and to us, the people of Jacksonville, through our local papers. We can do no less than to say, "We believe you know what you're talking about. Where do we go from here?"

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. F. J. Ferry

Here's Concrete Again!

You can relax on concrete, for concrete pavement is smooth-riding and safe.

You can stop—quick—on concrete, wet or dry, because its gritty texture grips tires. At night visibility is improved because light-colored concrete reflects more light. That means greater safety, fewer accidents.

Concrete pavement is economical, too. It gives more years of uninterrupted service at far less maintenance cost.

You pay for paving, Mr. Motorist, with your gas taxes, license fees and other taxes. So insist on portland cement concrete, the low-annual-cost pavement that's a pleasure to drive on.

MYERS BROTHERS

Waltz into Parkness

BY WILLIAM IRISH

JULIA'S STORY: "Julia" tells Durand her name is really Bonny Castle. She traveled the river boats as a partner of a crooked gambler. On that fateful trip, the real Julia had made friends with her, confided that she was an heiress to a fortune of $100,000. The gambler, learning about it, did away with Julia, forcing Bonny to take her place. After marrying Durand, Bonny tried to back out of the arrangement, but the gambler threatened her. So Bonny fled (with Durand's money). At the end of her flight, Bonny slipped herself into Durand's arms. He finds it impossible to resist her.

XXIX

A SOUND at the door awoke Durand. It was a delicate sort of tapping, a coaxing pit-pat, as if with one fingernail. As his eyes opened he found himself in a room he had difficulty recalling from the night before. The cooling silvery-green of low-burning lights was no longer there. Ladders of flaming Gulf Coast sunlight came slanting through the slits of the blinds. He thought he was alone at first. He backed a hand to his forehead, eyes to keep out some of the over-acute brilliancy. "Where am I?" Then he saw her. Her cloverleaf mouth smiled back at him, indirectly, via the surface of the mirror she sat before. "With me," she answered. "Where you belong."

The stuttering little tap came again. There was something coy about it that irritated him. He turned his head and frowned over that way. "Who's that?" he asked sternly, but of her, not the door. She shaped her mouth to a soundless symbol of laughter; then she stilled it further, though it hadn't come at all, by speaking her fingers over it, fanwise. "A suitor, I'm afraid. The colonel. I know him by his tap."

Durand, his face growing blacker by the minute, was at the bedside now, struggling into trousers with a sort of cavoring hop, to and fro.

The tapping had accosted them a third time. "It's Harry, my dear," came through the door. "Am I too early? You know I'll wait all morning for you, if necessary. To wait outside your door for you to come out is pleasant thing I know of."

The door sliced back and the colonel found himself confronted by Durand, feet unshod, hair awry, and in nothing but trousers and undershirt. He gave a strangled exclamation, like a wounded grunt. Followed by a convulsive swallowing. "Uh—? Ah—? Uh—?"

"Well, sir?" Durand rapped out. "And what brings you to my wife's door, may I ask?"

"—I didn't know!" Worth managed to gasp out asthmatically. "You do now, sir!" Durand said severely. And the door closed on the colonel's stupefaction.

ARMS close-knit about one another's waists, leaning almost avidly from the open window of her room, shimmering in unison with laughter, they watched the streaming debacle of the colonel's luggage, poured forth from under the veranda shed, followed by its owner's hurried, trotting departure.

"Oh, dear!" she exhaled, breathless. "That man!"

"We'll have to go soon ourselves," he reminded her. "Why?" she asked as they turned back into the room. Then thinking she had found the answer for herself, gave it to him without waiting. "Oh, because of what's happened. Yes, it's true; I was seen with him constantly all these past—"

"No," he said, "that isn't what I meant. It's that—business on the boat. I told you last night, I went to a private investigator in St. Louis, and so far as I know, he's still engaged upon it."

"He has no police power, has he?" she asked with quick, brittle interest.

"Not so far as I know. I don't know what he can do or can't do, and I've no wish to find out. The police in New Orleans told me you were immune, but that was at that time, before he took hand in it. Your immunity may expire from one minute to the next, when we least expect it, while he's still around and about. Don't you see, we can't go back to New Orleans now."

"No," she agreed without emotion, "we can't."

"And it's better for us not to linger here too long either. Word travels quickly. You cannot help drawing the admiration of all eyes wherever you appear. You're no drab wallflower. Besides, my own presence here is well known; I made no secret I was coming here, and they'd know where to reach me."

She raised her hand and snapped her fingers close before her face. "Very well, we'll go," she said gaily. "We'll be on our way before the sun goes down. Where shall it be? You name it."

"What about Mobile or Birmingham; those are large enough towns to lose ourselves in."

She made her choice with a pert little nod. "Mobile for now. I'll begin to pack at once."

She stopped again in a moment, holding some article in her hands, and threw close to him once more. "How different this is from last night. Do you remember? Then it was an arrest. Now it is a honeymoon."

She crept into his arms, looked up at him, her very soul in her eyes. "Do you forgive? Do you take me back?"

"I never met you before last night. There is no past. This is our real wedding day."

"My Lou," she sobbed ecstatically. "My Lou—"

"Careful, there," she warned, with finger upright to his lips. "My Bonny."

Court Signs Order To Move Train Wrecker To Colony At Lincoln

Charles Stewart Willis, 32, who was convicted in the Morgan circuit court in 1932 on a charge of throwing a switch which resulted in the wrecking of a Wabash passenger train, and the deaths of the engineer and fireman, will be transferred from the Illinois penitentiary at Menard, Ill., to the Lincoln State School and Colony by an order issued Wednesday morning in the Morgan county circuit court by Judge Clem Smith.

The order was issued by a mandate of the Illinois Supreme Court.

The court ordered Sheriff Ralph Bourn to make the transfer. Sheriff Bourn said he would probably leave for Menard Friday morning to carry out the court order.

Supreme Court Ruling

Judge Smith issued the order after Assistant State's Attorney William T. Wilson presented the following supreme court ruling:

"Mandate and decision of the Supreme Court of the State of Illinois in People ex rel. Manuel M. Wiseman on behalf of Charles Stewart Willis, a feeble-minded person, vs. Walter Nierstheimer, warden, Illinois State Penitentiary, Menard, Illinois, respondent No. 30626 habeas corpus, ordered filed.

"Pursuant to said mandate and opinion it is hereby ordered that the sheriff of Morgan county, Illinois, be and is hereby directed to forthwith receive the body of Charles Stewart Willis from the warden of the Illinois State Penitentiary at Menard, Illinois, and to forthwith deliver the said body of the said Charles Stewart Willis to the superintendent of the Lincoln State School and Colony at Lincoln, Illinois, for commitment under the order of the County Court of Jersey county, Illinois, of April 8, 1932."

Was Found Feeble-minded

Willis was taken into custody in Jersey county in 1932 and sent to the Lincoln institution when he was found to be feeble-minded. He was later placed in an "opportunity home" at Decatur and then sent to a foster home in Jersey county. It was while he was in this home in Jersey county that he came to Jacksonville and allegedly wrecked the Wabash train, being convicted in this county and sentenced to life imprisonment.

It is alleged that the county court of Jersey county failed to make the correct court entries in the case. The supreme court found that Willis was legally committed to the Lincoln institution and should be an inmate of that institution.

The wreck here in 1932 was caused when Willis is alleged to have thrown a switch near Webster avenue causing the eastbound Wabash passenger train to run into a short switch, striking an oil tank. The engine turned over, killing Engineer John Rapp and Fireman Harry L. Myers. Several passengers were injured. The oil tank was ripped open and the oil caught fire, resulting in a bad conflagration.

Ways to Save

If you were a native of Malaita in the Solomons you would carry your "savings" in a "dilly bag" hung under your arm. Your "wealth" would consist of strings of dog teeth, and betel nuts.

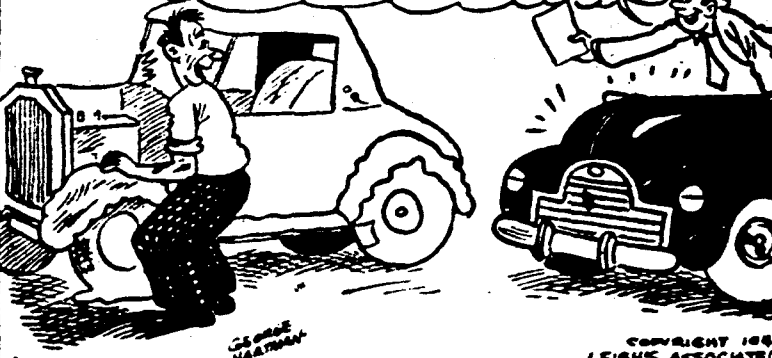

Betel nuts are about the size and color of small limes, and they stain the teeth bright red, they are divided into small bits and held in the front of the mouth. The slow trickle of betel juice acts as a stimulant.

Your savings in Malaita would steadily get smaller... but here in Jacksonville they constantly grow. Your Jacksonville Savings & Loan Association pays you a profit on your savings, and you can add to them as you please. Stop in and let us explain.

Routt Rockets Prep For Opener Against ISD Tigers Friday

Routt's Rockets, under the direction of freshman coach Paul Stroud, are busily prepping for the season's opener against the ISD Tigers on the westender's boards Friday evening. This will be the first intra-city cage fray of the 1948 hardwood wars.

Four regulars from last year's team return to the Routt varsity and show a polish in ball handling and shooting that should make them a hard team to stop in this vicinity. Lack of height is a big factor in the make-up of the first five at present. Stroud is debating over the use of Vernon Tighe, a fast, shifty, half-pint ball handler, or big Paul Sener in the pivot position. Insertion of Tighe in the center spot definitely gives the Rockets a speed and smoothness seldom found in high school basketball, but with no height, rebounding, which is very necessary, is nil. Sener, standing at an even six foot, and the tallest man on the squad, gives them the height needed.

Paul Kennedy and Sonny Lonerger will probably start at the forward for the east side five, with Joe Murphy and A. J. Spreen bringing the ball down from the guard positions. Tony Cobb and Ed Lawless will also see plenty of action in this initial fray. All these lads possess far above average speed, and will doubtless push a fast break to every possible advantage. Stroud has completely ignored the zone defense in workouts to date, and will depend entirely on a strictly man for man bulwark in the ISD game.

Junior members of the squad who will form the reserve team are: Cader, Kennedy, Kaufman, Clancy, Wainman, Omeara, Sellers, Mullins, Towers, McGuire, Boujean, and Long. All these cagers are freshmen or sophomores and will stick to second team ball until they gain the experience necessary for graduation to the varsity.

The Rockets are members of the PMBC conference, along with Spike Wilson's crew. At present, Chambersburg looms as the strong outfit in this league, but Routt's showing in the east side-west side contest may change the picture. Other teams in the loop are Mt. Sterling, Bluffs, Meredosia, Perry, and Chapin.

Play Twenty Games
In announcing the schedule, the Routt leader called to our attention the fact that no team will be met twice by the Rockets. Only allowed to play twenty games under Illinois athletic rules, the local school will go into action against that many different teams.

Harry Gilmer Is Out Of Redskin Lineup Until '49

Washington, Dec. 1.—(P)—Harry Gilmer, the most publicized non-playing player in National football league history, won't play with the Washington Redskins until 1949.

But neither he nor the Redskins management is discouraged. The prize rookie from Alabama, who made an impressive showing in the statistics on his hospital bed chart, still has his leg in a cast. It won't come off until the first of the year, far too late to do any good for the Redskins—already out of the championship picture.

But Dick McCann, Redskins general manager, said today: "Harry goes to workouts regularly, and we figure he's learned a lot. When he hasn't been able to attend a game, he has watched it on television."

"Those who have been with him get a big kick out of watching Harry call the Redskins after sizing up the situation."

The Redskins had thought they had the situation completely sized up when they signed Gilmer, a good passer and punter. They were so sure they traded their draft rights on Charlie Conerly, a flashy passer from Mississippi, to the New York Giants.

But Gilmer was kicked in the leg in August. His leg responded to treatment, and he got in for half a dozen plays. Then it went bad again, and his actual playing time this season will be something less than two minutes.

Sammy Baugh, the Redskins' great passer, has said of Gilmer: "He's the best looking prospect I've seen since I've been up here."

Gilmer's leg isn't discouraged, but adds, "It sure has been the longest season I've ever put in."

Hamilton May Be Sports Boss At U. Of Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, Dec. 1.—(P)—Capt. Tom Hamilton had a choice of jobs today—he can remain as athletic director of the U. S. Naval Academy or become all-around sports boss of the University of Pittsburgh.

Just as most everyone had predicted, Hamilton yesterday was offered the job of Pitt director of physical education and athletics—a brand new position combining the athletic directorship with that of physical education.

Chancellor Rufus H. Fitzgerald, who announced the selection, said later Hamilton will come here by plane Thursday to look over the situation.

CARROLLTON FIVE WINS CAGE CONTESTS

Carrollton defeated Brighton last night by a 48-32 score. Coach Bradley's boys weren't in trouble once as they took their second game of the season. In their first tilt they walloped Bluffs 62-32.

Carrollton's second team also took their opponents by 51-28 and 38-28 respectively from Bluffs and Brighton.

The next game on the docket for Carrollton is with Northwestern high school of Palmyra, Ill., on Tuesday night.

Charles Ruffing Markes Debut As Manager Next Year

Chicago, Dec. 1.—(P)—Charles "Red" Ruffing, once the pride of the New York Yankee pitching staff, will make his debut as a baseball manager next season at the helm of Muskegon, Mich., in the Class A Central league.

Ruffing's appointment to succeed Bennie Huffman as Muskegon pilot was announced today by Johnny Rigney, director of the Chicago White Sox farm system.

The 43-year-old Ruffing, whose seven victories in 10 World Series appearances is a major league pitching record, finished 22 years of American League hurling in 1947 with the White Sox.

Ruffing, with a major league record of 273 wins and 234 defeats, last summer conducted a series of baseball schools and try-out camps for the Sox.

Ruffing entered professional baseball in 1923 with Danville, Ill., of the Three-I league. He joined the Boston Red Sox the next year and was with that club until 1930 when he was traded to the Yankees.

The brilliant right-hander remained with the Yankees until he entered the Army in 1942. For four seasons, 1936 through 1939, won 20 or more games as the Yankees swept to titles all four years.

After military service, Ruffing rejoined the Yankees late in the 1946 season.

He signed with the White Sox in December of 1946, but a bad knee limited his record to three wins and five defeats in 1947, his last pitching season.

Ruffing is a resident of Chicago. Huffman moves to Waterloo, Iowa, as manager of the White Sox Farm club in the Class B Three-I League.

Pitt All Steamed Up Over Decision Of Capt. Hamilton

Pittsburgh, Dec. 1.—(P)—Pitt is all steamed up over a new athletic voyage—but all at sea on whether the favored skipper will sign articles for the cruise.

The Pitts want Navy Capt. Thomas Hamilton, now athletic director at the naval academy, to take the helm in a similar job here.

He's due here tomorrow for a day-long inspection of the craft he's been asked to command.

But a university source said: "We doubt whether Hamilton will make a decision tomorrow but we certainly hope he will."

That hope seemed forlorn. Hamilton said in Annapolis, Md., today he would confer with high navy officials in Washington on Friday. He must be released by the navy to take the Pitt job.

A lead which spouted the information that Pitt wanted Hamilton before negotiations were complete caused the university bigwigs some dismay—and the present uncertainty. They feared the navy's rule against officers dicker for civilian jobs unwittingly may have been violated.

Hamilton has the length of service—more than 20 years—to make him eligible for retirement. But the navy has the right to keep valued officers around until maximum retirement age of 65—and beyond if the necessity arises.

That would be a long wait for Hamilton. He's only 42.

AP Poll Honors Bill Kellum As Lineman Of Week

New York, Dec. 1.—(P)—Bill Kellum, Army end, today gained honors as lineman of the week in the final Associated Press poll of the season.

Kellum, a 22-year-old from Haynesville, La., earned the award for his top play in the Army-Navy struggle before 102,000 at Philadelphia.

The 190-pound end never let any plays get around him. He either made the tackle or forced the runner to cut back inside. His number "85" seemed to be in most key plays.

Navy, a three-touchdown underdog, might have won but for Kellum's play. As it was the game ended in a 21-21 tie.

Ernie Stautner, Boston college tackle, and Lavern Torgerson, Washington State center, likewise drew high praise for their feats.

Stautner played a major role in BC's 21-20 triumph over Holy Cross. He recovered a fumble to set up one BC score, converted all three extra points, and blocked one Holy Cross attempted conversion.

Torgerson's performance helped Washington State hold Penn State to a 7-0 victory. He intercepted three Penn State aerials and made a high percentage of his team's tackles.

Al Miller also has cause to sing the blues on this eve of his hilltopper's initial hardwood contest of the season. Barney Velk, freshman hoop ace from Westville, has suffered a relapse of a knee injury sustained in football. Barney had been slated for a starting niche in the Blueboy lineup, and this loss will change the I.C. mentor's plans considerably before his opener at Concordia of St. Louis Friday night.

Velk came to the Illinois College campus with all-state recognition from high school days, and a thirty point per game average in Independent basketball. He lived up to this advance prestige in early practice sessions and showed promise of becoming a standout scorer on the Hill school's quintet before coming down with a lame leg. Miller informs us he'll probably miss the first three games on the Blueboy schedule.

—0—
We noticed astonished looks on several fans' faces when Spike Wilson's boys called time out and trotted over to the bench for instructions from the Tiger mentor with only a few minutes remaining in the Waverly fray. It's a new rule adopted by the IHSAA this year, and absolutely permissible for the boys to receive their instructions first-hand from the coach rather than through a substitute or sign language.

—0—
Also, prep basketball players no longer have to report to the officials when entering a game. All that's necessary when substituting is for a player to be recognized by the scorekeepers, and inform the cager for whom he's subbing to get off the floor.

—0—
This latter rule should tend to speed up the sport but the "bench gathering" has been frowned upon by several local mentors. Paul Stroud of Routt and Bob Kraushaar, Cromwell leader, have informed their players to stay away unless beckoned.

—0—
Stan Spotts is taking up the reins in basketball just as he led the Crimson football team. His twenty points against Virginia give notice that he intends to bow out of high school athletics with a record well worth remembering. Stan will graduate in January, leaving a big hole in the J.H.S. basketball lineup.

—0—
Spike Wilson has a pair of fine guards in Billy Yates and Stanley Kwiat. Yates, only a shade over 5 ft. 9 in. controlled both backboards through the major portion of the Waverly fray, and Kwiat was the driving force behind the Tiger's fight for victory in the waning seconds of play. Both boys are very good on defense, and slowed the Scotty fast break to a walk early in the game.

—0—
Coaches seem to be stressing the importance of free throws to their cagers this year. ISD, while outscored from the field by Waverly 12 ringers to 9, hit a good percentage on free throws to take the contest. Camp Point's win over Mt. Sterling was also credited to their ability to hit from the gift-line, and Milnes White Hall forward, hit fifteen of the free ones to score 31 points and lead his team to victory over the Meredosia Indians.

—0—
Paul Blakeman is tutoring a nice youngster in the person of Jimmy Bonds, Chapin's 6 ft. 2 in. center. Only a sophomore, Jimmy counted 24 points Tuesday night against Ashland, and boasts a season's average of 16 points per game. Not bad for a kid.

—0—
East meets West in Jacksonville Friday night, with ISD, invading Routt's Rockets in the first inter-city basketball game of the winter. This is the Stroud coach's five debut in the basketball circle, while Wilson's gang has experience from two previous games under their belts.

—0—
Bob Kraushaar's crimson crimsen train for Feltshan of Springfield, and the I.C. cagers travel to St. Louis to round out the basketball picture in Jacksonville Friday.

—0—
The Millermen came home Saturday night to play host to Blackburn college in the I.S.D. gymnasium. Game time is 9 o'clock, with Joe Brooks' college B squad clashing with 25 Nebo Independents at 7 p.m. in the curtain raiser.

Firemen Dodge Eviction
Mar Del Plata, Argentina.—(P)—The ban on evictions came just in time to save the fire department. Congress recently extended all rent contracts for 18 months and halted all eviction proceedings. The firemen were under court notice to get out of their rented firehouse within 60 days—taking the fire engine with them.

Billy Conn Meets Louis For Third Time On Dec. 10

Chicago, Dec. 1.—(P)—It's hard to say whether Billy Conn has recovered from the "shell-shock" inflicted by the brown bomber, heavyweight champion Joe Louis, whom he meets for the third time here Dec. 10.

The six-round mix 10 days hence, of course, is an exhibition. But for the Irish Clipper, who arrived today to begin workouts at the Ringside gym, it's a golden chance to put some backbone in his comeback try.

Conn, 35, is a former contender, not a flash, not a showman. He's a lanky ex-golden glove from St. Louis. Occasionally Conn can loose with a whistling left hand and at times he showed flashes of the trickery which nearly befuddled Louis out of the title when they first met in 1941.

Conn isn't flabby—probably close to the 188 pounds he claims. (He was 182 when he made his pathetic second showing against Louis in 1946). But he appeared a little dead on his feet and awfully tired after his sparring, rope-skipping and bag-punching session.

"I haven't worked out since I knocked out Jackie Lyons at Dallas, Tex., and I was stiff from the train ride," said Conn.

"I'll be ready to go eight, 15, 20—any number of rounds they want me to in my daily workouts. I'm starting intensive road work tomorrow."

Conn, since he emerged from the retirement imposed by Louis' pounding fist two years ago, has scored nine-round knockouts in two starts, over Lyons and over Mike O'Dowd at Macon, Ga.

If Conn has a good Irish mad on against Louis, he's keeping it quiet. However, when he posed for photographers beside a large picture of the champion, he muttered snarply: "Cousin Joe."

Louis starts training at Eddie Nichols' gym on the far south side tomorrow.

Conn talks about a shot at the winner of the Joe Baki-Ezzard Charles bout, also on Dec. 10. But he doesn't give it the press-agent treatment. He just says simply: "I'll make a good showing against Louis. I know I'm better than any of those other guys. And I'm younger, too."

A throng of about 1500 watched the 30-year-old ex-dancing singer work out. But it was a silent crowd. Not even a ripple of applause followed his two-round stint with Buha.

Billy the kid's comeback is marking time until he steps into the ring a week from Friday night at the International Amphitheater.

IAAF Announces Ten New Track, Field Records

London, Nov. 30.—(P)—The International Amateur Athletic Federation announced today it had recognized ten new world records in track and field, including Herb McKenley's 45.9 seconds for the 400 meters.

The Jamaica star's mark, established in the National AAU meet at Milwaukee, Wis., last July 2, was the only one posted by an athlete from the western hemisphere.

All the others were made by Europeans. Fanny Blankers-Koen, the Dutch housewife who captured four Olympic titles on the red brick dust of Wembley Stadium here last summer, had three of her earlier performances accepted.

They were in the 100 meter dash, 80 meter hurdles and 440 yard relay "which she ran as a member of the Dutch team." Other records were set by a Belgian, Finn, Briton, Hungarian, Italian and Austrian.

The new records:
400 meters—45.9 seconds by Herb McKenley of Jamaica at Milwaukee, Wis., July 2. Previous record 46 seconds by Grover Klemmer of United States and Rudolf Harbig of Germany.

200 meters—5.07 by Gaston Reiff of Belgium at Brussels, Sept. 29. Previous record 5.118 by Gunder Haegg of Sweden.

300 meters—one hour, 40 minutes and 46.6 seconds by Mikko Heiskanen of Finland at Jyväskylä, Finland, June 20. Previous record one hour, 40 minutes and 57.6 seconds by Jose Ribas of Argentina.

Five mile walk—35:43.4 by Harold G. Churcher of Britain at London June 5. Distance not previously recognized for record purposes.

Hammer throw—193 feet, 7 1/2 inches by Irme Nemeth of Hungary at Tata, Hungary, July 14. Previous record 193 feet, 6 1/2 inches by E. Blask of Germany.

Discus throw—181 feet, 6 1/2 inches by Adolfo Consolini of Italy at Milan Oct. 10. Previous record 177 feet, 11 inches by Consolini.

Women's 100 meters—11.5 seconds by Fanny Blankers-Koen of Holland at Amsterdam June 13. Equals previous record by Helen Stephens of United States.

Women's 80-meter hurdles—11 seconds by Mrs. Blankers-Koen at Amsterdam June 20. Previous record 11.3 seconds by Mrs. Blankers-Koen.

Women's 440-yard relay—47.4 seconds by the Netherlands (G. De Jongh, N. Wiltziers-Timmer, G. V. D. Kade-Koudy and F. Blankers-Koen) at Ryswyk, Holland, July 25. Previous record 48.8 seconds by the Netherlands.

Women's javelin throw—158 feet, 2 inches by E. Bauma of Austria at Vienna June 29. Previous record 154 feet, 1 1/2 inches, by A. Steinhilber of Germany.

In reporting previous record holders, the I.A.A.F. appeared to have overlooked some old marks it had approved since the war.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, Dec. 1.—(P)—Hog sales were mostly 25 to 75 cents a hundred pounds lower today, while cattle and sheep were steady to 50 cents lower.

Fresh deliveries of 14,000 hogs were a thousand higher than expected and were augmented by an estimated unsold holdover of around 2,500 head. This holdover was 3,000. Most good and choice butcher hogs ranged from $21.00 to $22.75, and an extreme top of $23.25. Comparable hogs made $18.50 to $20.75.

High-choice yearlings topped the cattle trade at $36.00, outstanding high-good to choice grades at $32.00 to $35.00 and medium to good at $24.00 to $31.00. Good and choice heifers made $26.50 to $31.00. Beef cows topped at $22.00, sausage bulls at $23.50, and vealers at $31.00.

Three doubles of choice lambs merited the top price of $26.25. Good to choice clipped kinds were $25.50. Fed yearlings fetched $22.50 and slaughter ewes $20.00 to $10.50. Total receipts included 20,000 hogs, 7,700 cattle, 600 calves, and 5,500 sheep.

FRACTIONAL CHANGES RECORDED BY CORN, WHEAT AND OATS

Chicago, Dec. 1.—(P)—Most major grains did not get far in either direction on the Board of Trade today. Wheat, corn and oats all made small fractional changes. Toward the close a little buying lifted most contracts slightly above the previous close.

Soybeans and lard showed some firmness, largely because of announcement of increased fats and oils exports. Rye spurted in light trading. Strength was based on purchases of 250,000 bushels of cash rye here by the government yesterday.

Receipts were: Wheat: 5 cars, corn 214, oats 13 and soybeans 2.

The market closed strong with the day's best prices recorded at the finish.

Wheat ended 1-11 higher, December $2.40-$2.40, corn was 1-11 higher, December $1.44-1/2, oats were unchanged to 1/8 higher, December $3.12, rye was 5 to 5 1/2 higher, December $1.80, soybeans were 11-1/4 higher, December $2.78-$2.78, and lard was 5 to 15 cents a hundred pounds higher, December $18.70-$18.72.

New York Stock Market

New York, Dec. 1.—(P)—In a sudden reverse of form, the stock market staged the sharpest advance in the past five weeks today.

With gains of fractions to more than 3 points, the market broke a long losing streak which was sparked by the presidential election on Nov. 2.

Trading expanded as prices curved upward. Turnover was at a rate of around 1,400,000 shares for the full session, which would compare with yesterday's 1,200,000.

Wall Street offered a number of reasons for the recovery. They ranged from "technical" considerations and a let-up in year-end tax selling to the present price level, now not far from the low of the year.

The rail, steel, oil and motor groups were most in demand.

Among the gainers were U.S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, General Motors, Nickel Plate, Illinois Central, Baltimore & Ohio and Montgomery Ward.

In the bond market Third Avenue Transit System lens improved on fair turnover. The demand was linked with a proposal to expand this city's transit facilities.

U. S. government issues moved narrowly.

Blueboys Lose Velk And Wilson On Eve Of Hardwood Opener

Al Miller is still feeling effects of football injuries as his Blueboys ready for their basketball debut of '48-49. Barney Velk, a certain starter in the Concordia fray Friday night, has his football knee in a cast, and Art Wilson, who was slated for considerable action in this opener, has suffered a relapse with his ankle injured in the Wesleyan grid fray four weeks ago.

Otherwise, the team loaded with underclass talent, shows great promise. With the return of last year's regulars Shouse, Longer, and Billings, and such additions as Grove and Gross, the latter an all-star from Danville, the team promises to be a match for any cage crew in the CCI. Not one senior appears on the varsity roster, and Art Wilson is the only junior on the squad.

Lasley, Grove, Gross, and Velk are all freshmen, and Shouse, Longer, Murrin, Billings, Due, DeGruitt and Clark are second year men, completing the hilltop basketball picture.

Will Miss Freese
Bob Freese, leading I.C. scorer last year, will be the only tough man to replace from the '47 outfit which won 4 and lost 4 conference games. Velk promised to carry on in a very acceptable manner in the high scoring forward's boots until his bad knee forced him off scene for approximately the first three games.

Blueboy mentor, Miller, announced an evenly split schedule for the winter's campaign with eleven home games and eleven abroad. All the hilltop school's games in Jacksonville will be played in the Illinois School for the Deaf gymnasium. He also gave notice of a Holiday Tournament, to be held on the westend school's floor December 21 and 22, with the Blueboys playing host to Quincy, Minnesota Northern State Teachers and Schurteff colleges.

Drawings for this hardwood event have already been held. I.C. will meet Schurteff and Minnesota battles Quincy in the first round, with the winners and losers tangling in the second meet on the 22 of December.

Wheaton Strong This Year
In the eyes of the I.C. coach, Wheaton looms as the team to beat in the conference. With every man from last year's great team that placed an easy first in the league back, the Wheaton squad is a polished, smooth working outfit, and would be an able foe for many of the larger colleges of the country, Miller states. Taking this into consideration, he still predicts a better than average season for the hilltoppers. If all of his team is able to play at once. As the situation spirited bidding is reported already underway on such stars as Doak Walker of Southern Methodist, Stan Heath of Nevada, Johnny Rauch of Georgia and Chuck Bednarik of Pennsylvania.

Both circuits, seeking to get the jump on the other, have held very hush-hush draft meetings, it has been learned reliably.

The All American player selection ceremony was staged in the middle of the summer and word of it was carefully guarded. The National held a secret session in Pittsburgh Nov. 15.

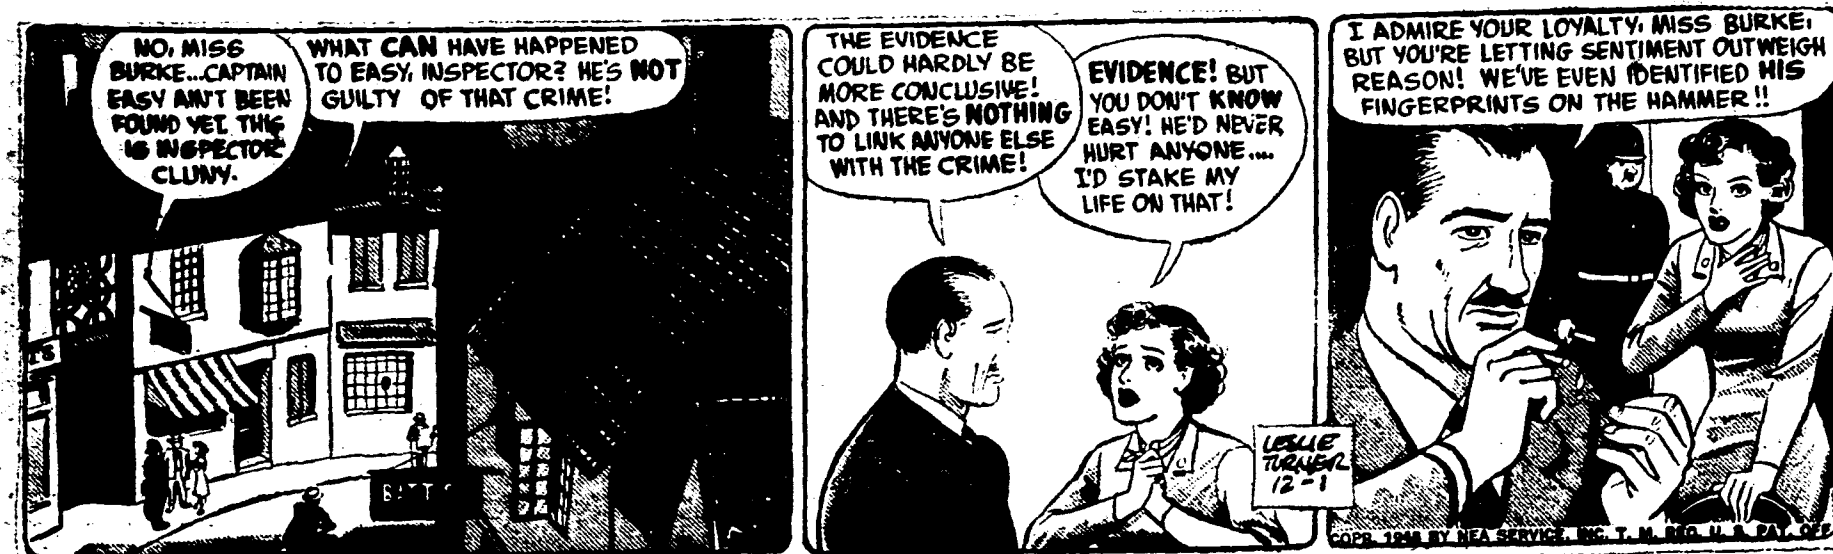

The Milwaukee Journal said yesterday the New York Yankees had offered Heath, Nevada's brilliant passer, $40,000 for two seasons.

No Offer Made to Heath
A Yankee spokesman acknowledged Burleigh Grimes had gone out to talk to Heath but said no offer had been made.

The Green Bay Packers are said to have gained the draft rights to the Nevada in the National League.</

E. E. Hart Dies Wednesday; Rites Friday Afternoon

Elmer Eugene Hart, 846 West State street, prominent Morgan county farmer, died Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock at Passavant hospital where he had been a patient since Nov. 23.

Mr. Hart was the son of Francis and Ketwah Fox Hart and was born April 12, 1874 on the Hart homestead northeast of the village of Sinclair where he lived until his retirement from active farming five years ago.

Review Records To End Divorce Evidence Ring

New York, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Records in all Manhattan divorce actions were placed under scrutiny of the district attorney's office today as an outgrowth of the smashing of an alleged fake divorce evidence ring.

The number of cases to be examined presumably could run into the hundreds, court order empowering the probe set no limit on how far back investigators could delve.

About 8,000 divorces, most of them uncontested, have been granted in Manhattan in the past two years.

In asking for the court order, Assistant District Attorney Charles McDonough told the court it appears there are hundreds of cases "in which collusive divorces have been obtained in this (New York) county."

In cases where fraud is found, the divorces could be nullified by action of an interested party or initiative of the courts.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan has not said why he is undertaking the investigation.

Existence of the alleged ring was disclosed yesterday with the arrest of five men and a 20-year-old mother of three children. The alleged ring was charged with faking affidavits of evidence through the staging of phony bedroom scenes and presenting of false evidence.

Adultery is the only grounds for divorce in New York State.

Journal Courier Will Sponsor Food Festival Jan. 25-28 At Theater

Featured by a program chock-full of down-to-earth information of practical interest to every homemaker in Jacksonville and the surrounding area, the Food Festival School of Cookery will open a four-day session on January 25, 1949. This event will be presented as a public service by the Journal Courier Co. and is free to everyone. All four sessions will be held at the Illinois theater.

The success of this cooking school event is assured with the news that it will be conducted by Miss Edalene Stohr, a member of the staff of the National Live Stock and Meat Board. With a fine background of experience in similar schools held in cities across the country, Miss Stohr can be depended upon to present a program of unusual interest to new brides as well as experienced homemakers. She has won a reputation for the efficient and interesting manner in which she carries on this work and this newspaper feels fortunate in being able to secure her for this school.

A Program of Variety
There will not be a single dull moment in this festive event. Each of the four days will be devoted to specific subjects and taken all together will provide a wide variety of information which can be put to practical use in every kitchen. There will be lessons in economy in the ideas presented relative to food buying. Ways of avoiding monotony in meal planning will be emphasized. Lessons for every homemaker in the planning of meals which are adequate in nutritive value will be given. There will be little of theory in the presentation of the four-day program. All foods will be actually prepared on the stage and the preparation clearly described by the lecturer.

To Stress Nutrition
Miss Stohr points out that in her extensive travels and her contacts with homemakers and persons in many ways of life, she finds an increasing interest in better nutrition. "No longer are homemakers interested only in the quantity of the foods to serve daily on their tables," she says. "They are interested in foods which supply liberal amounts of proteins, vitamins and minerals. For this reason we are going to stress meal planning from the standpoint of providing an adequate diet for every member of the family."

The Food Festival School of Cookery will begin on Tuesday, January 25 and continue through Jan. 28th. Each session starts at 9 a. m. The place is the Fox Illinois and homemakers are urged to arrive early and secure the choice seats.

Overpreparation For War Bad For Industry: Ball
Washington, Dec. 1.—(AP)—An Interior Department official, resigning today, said there is danger of losing the next war through overpreparation for it.

Max W. Ball, chief of the department's oil and gas division, said some experts are talking of the possibility of another war in about five years.

"I think this country, which has been paying a good deal of attention to the problem of national preparedness, needs also to give thought to how not to prepare for a war," Ball told a reporter.

"Two wars have been won by our vigorous and elastic economy. American industry has been elastic and strong because it has been operating under a free competitive system."

"There is a very real danger that in our anxiety to get ready for the next war we may prematurely channel our industry and by so doing restrict it and lessen its vigor and elasticity."

Ball said he is heartily in favor of national planning—"but planning and then putting the plans in a desk, to be taken out once a week and revised and not to be put into effect until an emergency occurs."
